

RSS Resources for Busy Bar Executives

For your reading pleasure

News That Comes to You

By J.D. Lasica, USC Annenberg Online Journalism Review (February, 2003)

<http://www.ojr.org/ojr/lasica/1043362624.php>

Stay Current with RSS Feeds

By David Simms (January, 2005)

(The D.C. Bar announces their RSS feeds)

http://www.dcbbar.org/for\_lawyers/washington\_lawyer/january\_2005/technotes.cfm

The Future of RSS - Is E-Mail Publishing Dead?

RSS-based Information and News Feeds: Pros and Cons For Content

Distribution Through RSS

By Robin Good (September 1993)

<http://www.llrx.com/features/rss.htm>

Aggregators Attack Info Overload

Wired Magazine By Ryan Singel (August 2003)

<http://www.wired.com/news/infostructure/0%2C1377%2C60053%2C00.html>

Remixing and Speculation on The Future of RSS

(January 20, 2005)

“If it ain’t broke. It soon will be.”

<http://www.readwriteweb.com/archives/002637.php>

Index to WebReference.com articles on RSS

(mostly for your IT staff)

<http://www.webreference.com/authoring/languages/xml/rss/>

Rich Site Services: Web Feeds for Extended Information and Library Services

by Gerry McKiernan Published September 20, 2004

<http://www.llrx.com/features/richsite.htm>

Compiled by Jim Calloway

jimc@okbar.org

<http://jimcalloway.typepad.com/>

<http://www.okbar.org/members/map>